

BITTER ATTACK ON MITCHELL

Delegate From Wyoming Unburdens His Mind.

REPLY EQUALLY POINTED QUARREL OVER COAL STRIKE IN COLORADO.

Indianapolis, Jan. 19.—The management of the Colorado strike was bitterly argued today on the floor of the national convention of the United Mine workers. Delegate Robert Randall of Wyoming took the floor and spoke for an hour. He charged that President Mitchell had sold out the miners' organization in the recent Colorado strike and attacked the financial integrity of the president. His speech was filled with personal abuse of President Mitchell and was a per diem wage on strike and that finally, after over $600,000 had been poured into the field, the strike had been irretrievably lost and he had advised a settlement. Vice President Lewis, Secretary Wilson, Pat Dolan of Pittsburgh and W. R. Fairley of Alabama, who had been in the strike for President Mitchell, also spoke vigorously, defending the president.

Mitchell's Reply.
When Randall was through, President Mitchell took the floor. He reviewed the conduct of the Colorado strike and said it was true he had advised a settlement, and would do so again under the same circumstances. He said early in the strike President Mitchell had been refused, as President Mitchell said he did not want to trust Jewelle with that amount. President Mitchell made the charge that ex-National Board Member J. L. Geurs had been in collusion with others in connection with the stock market, that the miners had refused to put up tents sent them unless paid for it, that the miners had demanded a per diem wage when on strike and that finally, after over $600,000 had been poured into the field, the strike had been irretrievably lost and he had advised a settlement. Vice President Lewis, Secretary Wilson, Pat Dolan of Pittsburgh and W. R. Fairley of Alabama, who had been in the strike for President Mitchell, also spoke vigorously, defending the president.

Socialism Passed Up.
When the mine workers met today the socialist question came up, but the convention again refused to allow the organization to be committed to socialism. The anti-socialist faction was led by Patrick Dolan of Pittsburgh, John Walker of Illinois who had been the floor leader of the socialists, also took the position that the miners should not engage in politics.

President Mitchell then took the floor and defended the leaders of the civil federation, when Delegate Randall from Wyoming shouted that the leaders were Grover Cleveland, whom every laboring man detests; Frank Robbins of Pittsburgh, who had been in the strike; and Andrew Carnegie, whose hands are red with the blood of the Homestead strikers.

Mitchell Was Angry.
President Mitchell showed his anger, and said: "I have heard of this man Randall before. He is a delegate who, in the local union at Dietz, Wyo., got up and said that John Mitchell had sold out to the operators in the Colorado strike. I had intended to call him to account in this convention for that statement, and do intend to make him prove his assertions."

Didn't Like Cleveland.
Continuing, Mr. Mitchell said: "I do not stand here to defend Andrew Carnegie, Frank Robbins or Grover Cleveland. But when the best man ever made a speech so favorable to our cause as Andrew Carnegie, who, in that banquet, said if his men went out on strike he would shut down his business and not employ a scab. It was a business proposition, he said, for the old men, the strikers, were the best. It was a favorable statement. As for Grover Cleveland, I do not like him. He is not a leading light, or a champion in the federation. He never ever looked in on that meeting. The leading lights of the federation—if you do not know who they are, I can tell you. They are men like Frank L. Robbins, who employs only union men, and the leaders of the union movement in this country."

MONTANA NEWSPAPER MAN KILLS HIMSELF
Butte, Mont., Jan. 19.—Daniel J. Walsh, night editor of the Butte office of the Anaconda Standard, shot himself in the head with a pistol at 10 o'clock this morning and died three hours later. Despondency, caused by ill health, was the motive. He leaves a wife, who is the daughter of a prominent army officer and a former Washington D. C. girl, and one child. Mr. Walsh was 40 years of age. He was formerly connected with the Washington Post.

THREE TRAINS WRECKED.

Terrible Disaster in England on the Midland Railway.

London, Jan. 19.—An alarming collision, involving three trains, occurred on the Midland railway near Earsley, today. Four passengers and two railway men were killed and 200 were injured, of which seven were seriously hurt. The accident occurred in a fog, the third train being the wreckage resulting from the first collision. The cars of one of the Scotch express trains were derailed and three men abaze from end to end. There were not many passengers on the trains or the casualties must have been far heavier, as the impact was so great that the cars were telescoped and splintered into matchwood. Among the injured is Robert Brough, the artist.

TO INVESTIGATE FAR EXPENSES

Senate Passes Louisiana Purchase Exposition Bill.

PLUMBING MEASURE PUT IN APPROPRIATION FOR CARBON COUNTY STRIKE CARRIES.

An investigation of the expenditures of money by the Louisiana Purchase Exposition commission, of which John Q. Cannon is secretary, was ordered by the senate yesterday on motion of Senator Willis Johnson, treasurer of the commission. He asked that the senate committee on appropriations and claims be instructed to appoint a sub-committee to conduct the investigation and the motion was unanimously carried.

In bringing up the subject, Senator Johnson said that the bill introduced by himself to liquidate outstanding obligations of the commission had been discussed in committee without a full understanding of the conditions and the causes for the expenditure.

Bill to Improve Plumbing.
Improved workmanship and improved sanitation are urged in support of a bill introduced by request of Senator Lawrence. The measure, senate bill No. 12, is backed by union labor interests. It has to do with plumbers and secure the registration, examination, etc., of plumbers, organized or otherwise, in cities of the first and second class. The boards are to be appointed by the mayors of the cities within ten days after the enactment of the law. Each board is to contain five members, two of them master plumbers, two journeymen and one other who shall be the chief inspector of plumbing and drainage of the city. The four first-named must be plumbers of not less than ten years' practical experience in the city and must give a bond of $3,000.

The bill provides that to be eligible for the position of plumbing inspector in a city of the first or second class a man shall be a practical plumber, shall pass the required examination and shall not have been engaged in the business as an employing plumber or master plumber, for three months prior to his selection. He must have no interest in any plumbing business during his term of office.

Strike Bill Ordered Paid.
Senator Lewis' bill to pay the Park National bank of New York the $25,625 borrowed by the state to pay the cost of maintaining the national guard in the strike during the Carbon county coal strike was favored by all but after much fussing around it was dropped on motion of Senator Lewis himself and house bill No. 36, covering the same ground, was substituted and passed.

Haste Is Urged.
The house bill was read. Lawrence moved that the senate bill be reconsidered so the two might be reconciled. Senator Lawrence seconded the motion. Senator Ransbom expressed his objection to delay and wanted to know why the house bill should not be passed. Senator Lawrence said he wanted to look at it. Senator Ransbom again urged haste. The money, he remarked, was an honest debt, and should be paid at once to shut off the interest charge.

MONEY NEEDED FOR IRRIGATION

Future Development Depends on the Legislature.

SMALL SUM IS REQUIRED
GOVERNMENT READY WHEN WATER USERS ORGANIZE.

"The irrigation possibilities of the state of Utah depend upon an appropriation from the legislature to the state aid land commission to carry on the work of organizing the water users so that the government can proceed with its work which is now at a standstill, and also that the state irrigation commission may continue its work of locating irrigable territory through the state that will be beneficial ultimately to the commonwealth."

This statement was made yesterday by State Engineer A. F. Doremus, chairman of the state aid land commission, in a report to the legislature, which the Utah lake project and later laid before the United States irrigation department. The report outlined the Utah lake project and later laid before the United States irrigation department. Kinney Defers to Joseph.
Judge Kinney arose yesterday afternoon and moved the house that "the speaker instruct Mr. Joseph to make his usual motion to adjourn."

Up to the Water Users.
The commission, Mr. Doremus continued, "has asked for an appropriation of $15,000 to carry out this work and I do not believe that the money can be expended in a more profitable manner. It is in the center of a great arid land area, and no other state has presented such an enormous proposition for the reclamation of its arid lands. The government has investigated the projects and found them possible. The largeness of the scheme, and the number of areas in the surrounding country which can be reclaimed, attracted the attention of the Washington officials and they sent their engineers here. The preliminary investigations have already been completed and favorable reports have been sent to the government. It is now waiting for the water users of the state to organize so that the national officials can confer with them and go on with the construction work."

Substitute Measure Is Passed Under Suspension of the Rules.
Senate bill No. 8, repealing the present bounty law with saving clause, to make convictions for frauds committed under the present laws, was framed by the special bounty committee and presented with the committee report by Senator Lawrence.

The committee was unanimously adopted. Senator Lawrence, urging the need for immediate action to prevent further frauds, moved the suspension of the rules and the passage of the bill. The motion was seconded by Senator Ransbom, unanimously passed, with Senator Williams absent and not voting.
